A FOND FAREWELL

What can we say to those who have worked so well for so many years? Asking only for what was needed and giving 150% of their time and effort. First, we say thank you even though we know a little thank you is not enough. Last, we say may God bless you and keep you so that your retirement is as rich and full of enjoyment as your time spent in your former profession. In between our opening and closing we will consider the personal make-up of each of you, that which makes you a complete person. To Mr. Tenolia Guice, Mrs. Anna King, and Mr. Joseph Capone we say what you have given to those you have worked with will be passed on for years to come. It will provide the fundamental difference between success and failure. We will always remember each of you and never-never forget you!

A HELPFUL HAND . . .

Academic selections, career choices, reference material, and proper health tips all tend to increase a student's chance of being successful. Providing services which will effect every student who passes through their doors is a very important task. A task that our support staff has taken on willingly. Each of them realize that they are charged with trying to improve and maintain the quality of school life at Westinghouse High School. Each of them are dedicated to seeing that our students have an equal chance of obtaining their goals in life.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

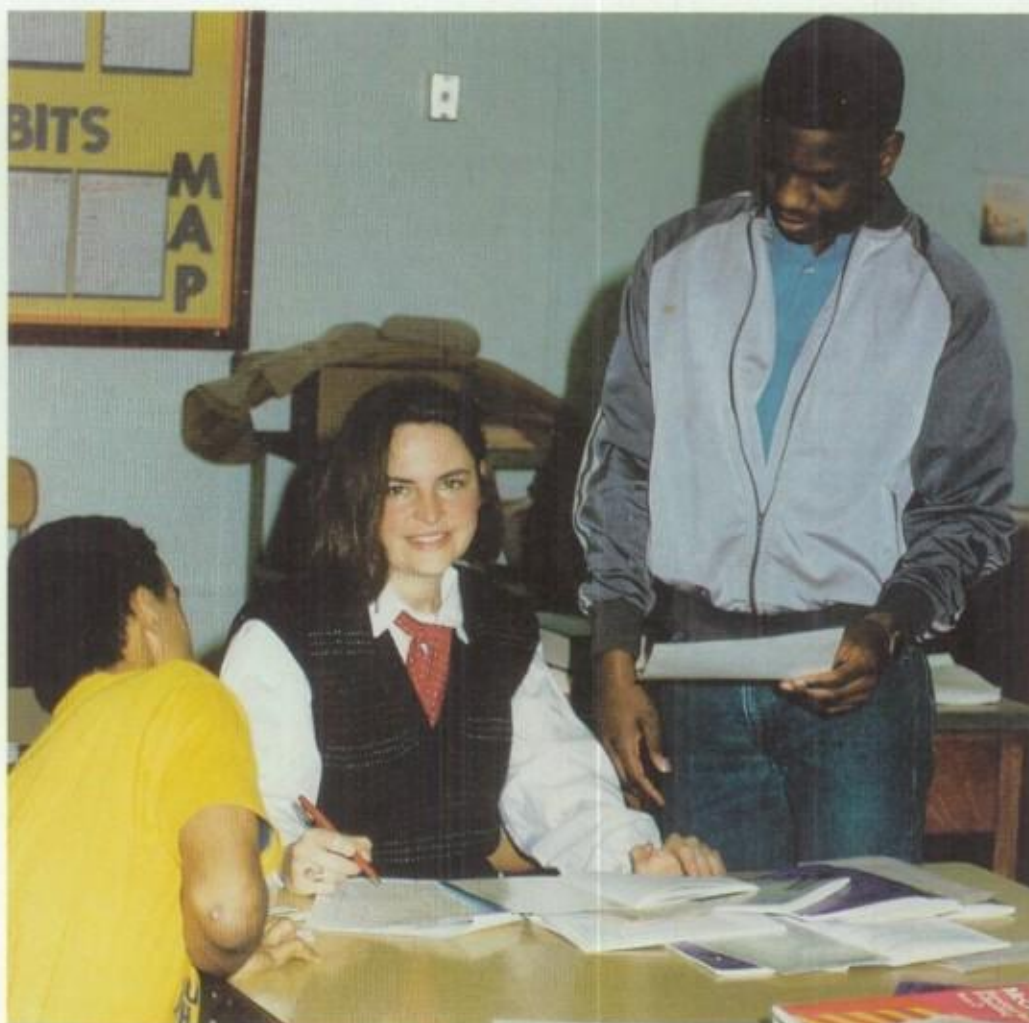

What does a teacher of English and Reading try to accomplish? One may begin by stating that their job is an awesome task. They must teach and reinforce skills relating to speaking, writing and reading. Each student has the opportunity of mastering this subject well enough to express his/her thoughts in verbal or in written form. With the direction of Dr. Gloria Spencer, this fine core of professionals ensure objectives are taught according to high standards. Students are also given stimulating activities to complete classroom assignments.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT

Discovering and learning about our past and how it has and will effect us is an important goal for students taking the various courses of study in the History Department. Other important areas of concern are government, politics, economics laws and their interpretations and how different cultures have played a role in the developement of various nations. The list goes on, the topics are many and it takes a core of historians willing and able to take on the task of presenting the story of men and women in a sequential, comprehensive, and interesting manner.

Students are given the chance to explore scientific areas through the watchful and experienced eyes of our science teachers. It is the hope of each science teacher that all students will gain a better understanding of the world around them as a result of taking science courses at Westinghouse.

From basic math to abstract mathematical computation, that is what the teachers in the Math Department work with students at Westinghouse. Their primary goal is to try and present instructional objectives in a manner that will bring about the greatest benefit for each student. This process some times takes a great deal of time and effort, but the outcome is rewarding for the students as well as for the teachers. Understanding math concepts is good for a start, however application of the concepts taught are indeed a terminal goal for everyone involved in our math programs.

BUSINESS & FINANCE ACADEMY

Modeled on successful academies in Philadelphia and Palo Alto, the Academy is the product of joint planning by the Urban League of Pittsburgh, the city schools, the Allegheny Conference on Community Development, and the local business community.

A "school within a school," not a "magnet" program, this program is open only to Westinghouse High School students. It provides, in addition to all academic requisites in English, math, science and social studies, a special curriculum—designed with consultation from the Pittsburgh banking community—in financial services.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

There are three programs at Westinghouse that are designated to deal with students who have learning problems.

First, is the Department for Exceptional Children. Their job is to increase student academic performance in English, math, reading, social studies, and science. Each teacher is dedicated to providing instruction that meets each students individual needs.

Second, is the Title I Reading program. Their task is to raise student reading levels based upon student need. Each teacher has a wealth of material, including computers, to assist them.

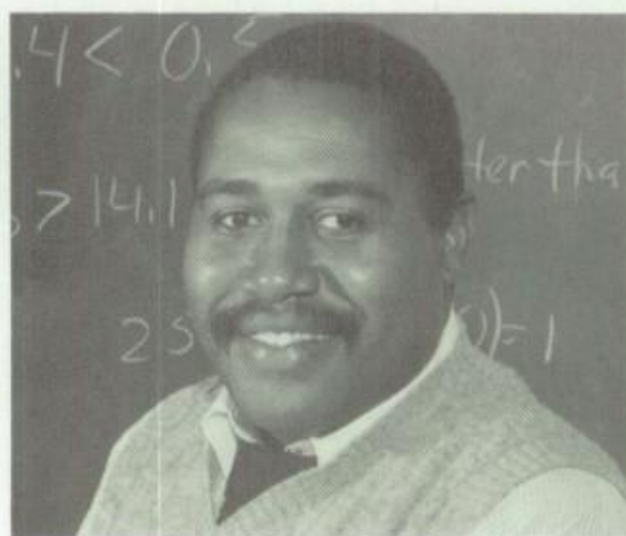

Last, is In-School Suspension. This program is designed to deal with students, who for what ever reason, have problems following school rules and regulations. It is a good alternative to sending students home. There each student can spend time away from the school population and complete regular classroom assignments.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Maintaining an environment that is conducive for building strong, healthy and productive minds is always in effect in this department. Each teacher works closely with their students, no matter what his/her skill level. These teachers believe that to promote physical growth it is incumbent upon them to develop positive attitudes in students. Because, if the student thinks well of himself; then the development of other areas will be easier to bring about.

So you think you have talent. Or maybe you're not so sure. Talented or not so talented, it does not matter to the teachers in this department. They are of the opinion that skills no matter how slight can be improved by hard work and the willingness to do better. Each student is given the chance to explore and discover his/her skill level. This provides an atmosphere for positive learning outcomes.

ON THE LINE WITH THE BULLDOGS

The 1986 Varsity Football squad, coached by George Webb, was the kind of team any coach would envy. With 4 wins, 4 losses, overall and 4 wins and 2 losses city wide, they managed a 4 place among the city league.

Leroy Dillard kept the team in top physical condition. The Bulldogs had strength and speed, along with determination, sportsmanship and team spirit. Another contribution was the team numbers and agility to play many positions. This year's team captains, Darnell Rankins and William Moore, played offense as well as defense. Darnell and William also were selected to the all city team.

Looking forward to next year, Coach Webb has as many or more talented athletes. Next year's captain is Terrence Wiggins. He will have help from all city Ronald Porter, who led the team with 800+ yards. None the less, all bulldogs are commended on their fine efforts and contributions.

JUNIOR VARSITY ON THE RISE

This Junior Varsity team was nothing short of miraculous. Coached by Lance Carter, the team put the fear into rivals as they dominated the field during the game. J.V., 4 wins, 0 losses, overall in the city league. This year's captain Troy Hill kept morale boosted. Coach Carter explained "They played as a team and play execution was really good. Ego's and bad attitudes were left in the locker room. The team's shining moment was beating Perry by a margin of 24 points. J.V. is really looking good but as some players begin to play varsity we can see the tradition of these players continue.

BULLDOG BASKETBALL

Jamie Butler calls the play.

The Boys Varsity Basketball was no different than last year. The Bulldogs had another losing season with 9 wins and 12 losses overall and 3 wins and 7 losses in the city league.

This years most valuable player was Jamie Butler. Jamie was All-City and participated in the 1986 Roundball Classic game. Jamie has a good season and is looking ahead to collegiate basketball.

This season was not without its thrills and worst moments. The biggest thrill came at Allderdice when the Bulldogs won for the 1st time in six years. The worst moment was losing a double overtime game to Brashear.

Every year can't yield a championship, but having a lot of the players returning next year and even better people participating, the Bulldogs will be even better.

TIME OUT

It was a slow year for the Boys Junior Varsity Basketball team with only 5 wins and 7 losses overall and 2 wins and 3 losses in the city league.

This years most valuable players were Shawn Walters and Rodney Dennard. Coach Scott said, "They were in good physical shape and they knew how to hustle. The teams biggest thrill was going to McDonald's to eat after the away games and the worst moments were losing in last quarters and in overtime play."

The starting line up consisted of Rodney Dennard, Bernard Mathis, Emile Williams, Lateef Walters, and Shawn Walters.

Perhaps next year there won't be as many losses and the team will be able to rule the court!

LADY BULLDOGS RETREAT!

The 1986 Girls' Varsity Basketball team found themselves with a losing season after 3 years of championship teams. Coach Webb had the misfortune of starting with only 3 returning players. With a disappointing season of 4 wins and 10 losses, the Lady Bulldogs no longer dominated their opponents.

Kymberle Gillcrease and Laura Hux were the teams captains along with being the games Most Valuable Players. Both posed the quickness, speed, jumping and shooting capabilities but could not carry the team to victory alone.

Next years captains are not known to Coach Webb. He has plenty of good candidates such as Tawanda Carter and Michelle Lockett. The Lady Bulldogs must return to that dominating team that they once were and going to be.

Laura Hux and Kym Gillcrease wait defensively for the outcome of Michelle Lockett shot.

J.V. LADY BULLDOGS

The J.V. Lady Bulldogs did not play any better than varsity this year. The Lady Bulldogs lost to teams they had literally destroyed in recent years and after the first two or three losses they couldn't regain their confidence or winning desires. Winning only 1 and losing 9 the team did not improve its performance further into the season.

Captains Sonja Parker and Michelle Lockett played to their fullest potential but couldn't keep up with the scoring of their opponents. Soon key players would find injury as another key factor in the teams disappointing season.

With most all the players returning next year, we look forward to a better season. Coach Carter does not have to rebuild his team just refine its already magnificent athletic abilities.

BOYS' TRACK

The 1986 Boys Track Team, Coached by George Webb, placed 4th in the city league. This could have been first place with the talent and speed the team had, but due to lack of numbers the team could not hold their own.

The team led by captains Cornell Brown and Jason Hall couldn't compete with competitors due to the lack of team members. Jason Hall, however, did win the 200m dash in a near record time of 22.4. Jason also was named the teams Most Valuable Player.

Since the majority of the seniors are leaving Coach Webb must replace the talented seniors leaving and also increase the numbers. This will not be difficult and with the captain Les Alston the team should do what is expected.

This year girls' track team, despite a tremendous effort, ended its season with 2 first place finishes; 1 third place, 1 fourth and a fifth place finish in the Pittsburgh Relays and fourth place in the City Championship. Leading the Lady Bulldogs were Senior Muriel Thompkins and Junior Rhonda Smith.

"The team was much smaller than before and had to work much harder," said Coach Robert Burley. Good speed in the sprinting events attributed to the teams' overall record.

The year's most valuable player was Rhonda Smith. She was the most valuable player because of her speed and dedication to the sport. The 400m relay team: Rhonda Smith, Muriel Thompkins, Lynette Moore, Carol Gaskins, and Lisa Hairston, qualified for the state Championship at Shippensburg. Lisa Hairston qualified for the 100m dash.

Almost everyone will be returning next year for another season. All of this year's team should be commended for their hard work.

BATTER UP!

The 1986 Boys' Varsity Baseball team Coached by Fred Malins and Jesse Bolden was one of different strengths and talent.

With only 4 wins and 8 losses, our Bulldog's spirit were never dampened. Endurance, physical and mental, along with dedication, agility, and sportsmanship helped to make the year a little less hardening.

Using these same ingredients and strategies for next year, Coach Malins finds himself with a new team at the departure of 6 seniors. Only the remainder will help assist Coach Malins through next season.

TAKING IT TO THE FENCE!!

The 1986 season was very unsuccessful. The season started with bad luck and ended with even worse luck. The Lady Bulldogs were in Division I this year which contributed to their losses.

The Lady Bulldogs were one of the youngest Westinghouse has ever had. The team only had four players returning from last year: Pitcher, Dawn Brown; 2nd base, Sharon Jordan; Leftfield, Leslie Austin; 1st base, Kelly Baxter.

The Lady Bulldogs were led by captain Dawn Brown. Powerful hitting and fast pitching was a trademark of Dawn.

The Lady Bulldogs finished the season with a record of 1 win and 11 losses. The win came over an exhibition game with Schenley High. The losses came at the hands of Langley, Brashear, Peabody, Carrick, and Oliver High.

Unlike the 1985 team, this team didn't make it to the city championship, but kept good team spirit through all of the games. Next year there will be all but 2 people returning to carry the load for the Lady Bulldogs.

ACE TENNIS TALENT

The 1986 Girls' and Boys' Varsity Tennis teams did not do very well due to new inexperienced players. There were only three returning players to both teams, Captain Delrita Mosbyl, Nicole Kolling, and Captain Pete Dickson.

The game of tennis requires a person to be very dedicated and also have a good eye. Everyone on the team seemed to be the kind of player Coach Braxton and Dalcanton would like to have play for Westinghouse's Tennis teams. The boys or girls did not win a game, but kept up good spirit.

SPIKING AND BLOCKING

Powerful volleyball is not a game for the faint of heart. High speed serves come from nowhere, players jockey for position at the net and the action is fast. The 1986 Girls' and Boy's Varsity Volleyball Team handled the action like seasoned amateurs.

The years captains were LeRoy Bell and Gregory King. Gregory also had the distinct honor of being this year's most valuable player.

Experience will be the best teacher for the 1987 team since 12 seniors, boys and girls, will be leaving. Many fine underclassmen will be returning with their spiking and blocking talents.

Seniors: Virginia Hughes, LaVonne McBride, Kymberle Gillcrease, Jennifer White, Michelle Dixon.

GOING THE DISTANCE

Few people have the desire or the stamina to become a cross country runner. The standard course is 2.8 miles long, up hills and down, and the average time is around 16 minutes.

Cross Country is a very personal sport because each runner has their own records to beat and their own goals to achieve. The Bulldogs may not have the dynasty they once had, but the runners put aside their personal goals and "ran for Westinghouse".

This years team coached by Lynda Lewis is one of the most talented Westinghouse has ever produced. Led by Earl Richardson and Becky Scott, they finished 6th out of 11 schools. The captains were Dennis Boyce, Earl Richardson, and Robert Fields.

SANDTRAP AT THE HOUSE

This year the Westinghouse Co-ed Golf team, Coached by Robert Burley finished the season with 2 wins and 3 losses.

Among those who led the team with the best scores were senior Louis Gilliam and sophomore Bernard Mathis. The team was also helped by Gladys Crews and Arlena Levy.

Golf is an individual sport, but when played as a team, it is a team score. Everyone on the golf team participated so it was a combined effort.

Next year the team should be better with three returning players and we are looking forward to a winning season.

GROUPS & ORGANIZATIONS

MARCHING BAND

This year's marching band was a sight for everyone to see. It was under the new direction of Mr. Calvin Stemley. This year's band focused on applying dance steps to music. The members of the band were very successful at this new experience. Many of the dance routines were choreographed by Mia Jackson, Jau Johnson, Crystal Payne, and Rhonda Robinson. The Drum majors, Bennie Francis and William Clark, kicked off the band's performances at the football games with a high stepping routine.

With the help of Rod Craighead and Wayne Epps as assistant band directors, the band's perfection in marching had succeeded. The performances throughout the city and out of state were extravagant. During one of the parades they performed in, they stole the show.

We are proud of what our band has become. We also wish that it will continue to grow and expand as it has done this year.

MARCHING BAND

Performing at basketball games, as well as football games, is another good quality of the marching band. Not only do they show how well they can march indoors, they show how they can strut inside as well. During half-time, the band really gets the crowd going with their routine. It gives the spectators a chance to let all their emotions get aroused before the second half of the game. Before you know it, the band is not only performing the latest songs, they are performing the latest dances as well. Next year we look forward to something new and exciting to come from this great marching band.

CHEERLEADERS

Rooting the basketball and football teams on are what the cheerleaders do best. They encourage the fans as well as the teams to be the best that they can be. This squad displays spirited, and energetic qualities to keep the suspense alive. As they jump and move about, they continue to keep things just as exciting as the games are.

Cheerleaders on the job

Executing their cheers at homecoming was another event the cheerleaders were a part of.

"Let's see those smiles girls! Say bulldogs!"

POMMERETTE SQUAD

Shaking their pom pons, moving to the beat, and giving it all they've got, are what makes the pommerettes a superb addition to the marching band. Co-Captains, Lisa Moore and Missy Wakefield, combine their talents to help the other young women perform to the fullest extent. They work hard to make sure everyone is in step, and that they look good when performing for hundreds of people. The pommerettes work very hard to give a good performance. Their hard work at practices is shown by their performances. Let's acknowledge their hard work as they continue to execute their routines in the future.

MAJORETTES

Whirling and twirling! That's their duty. The Majorettes, led by LaVonne McBride, continue to keep things moving with their batons. Each time the band moves out to perform, the majorettes are there to strut proud along with them. The majorettes practice as much as they can to see that their routines are perfect. As they continue to whirl and twirl, the majorettes will always be at their best.

Celestine Moore, Jeanean Hill, and Carlena Jackson join in to sing "Westinghouse forever."

FLAG SQUAD

Hard work, lots of practice, and dedication are what it takes to make the flag squad perform the way they do. Gwen Fuqua, Captain, makes sure that the squad learns how to master the techniques used in controlling the flags. These young ladies try hard to make their performances sparkle as they perform with the band. They look forward to parades so they can make Westinghouse look as well as their performances. The flag squad is greatly appreciated for their hard work and superb performances.

CHOIR

Perfection! That is the only word that can describe the Westinghouse High School choir. Under the direction of Mrs. Linda Ross-Broadus, the choir has performed many outstanding concerts across the city and out of state. This year the choir performed in Florida. There they were awarded a superior rating for another remarkable performance.

As well as out of state, the choir has sung at many places in the city. One of these performances was singing the National Anthem before one of the Steeler Football games.

The choir has made Westinghouse look very professional for many years, and so far, they are continuing to uphold their name as superb singers for the future.

CHOIR

As well as the concert choir as a part of Westinghouse's vocal performers, there is the ensemble and the girls' ensemble. Both are also under the direction of Mrs. Linda Ross-Broadus. The ensemble performs for special events throughout the year. The girl's ensemble participates in the spring festival as well as many other concerts.

Standing proud and singing their hearts out are what these two groups are all about.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

A very select group of students who must have maintained a 3.0 grade point average or better from the 9th through the 11th and/or 12th grade. This is a service group which selects its membership from recommendations from our administration and faculty members.

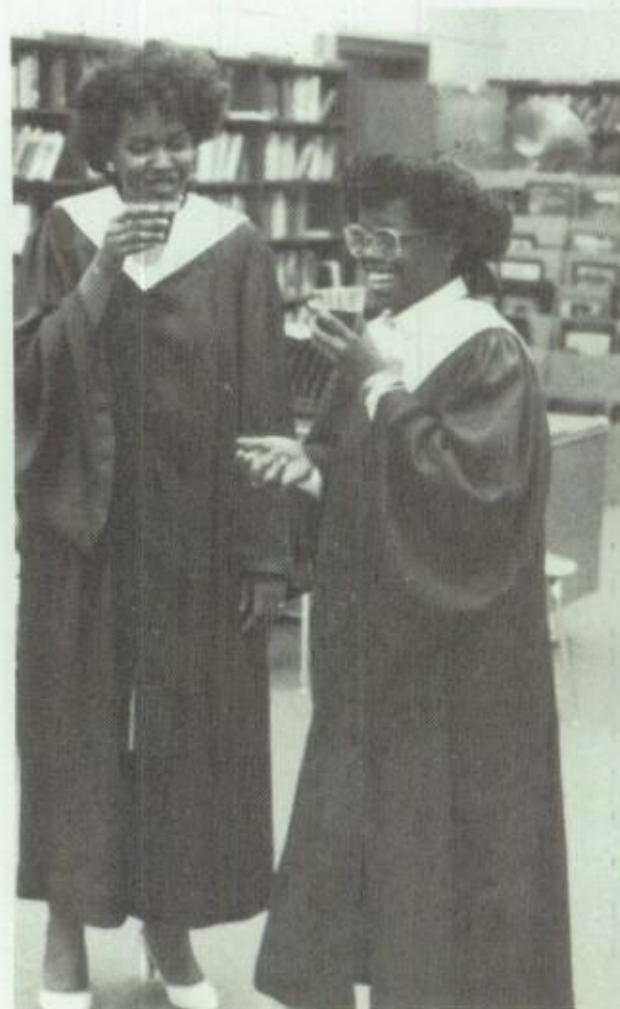

This year the society had its annual Christmas Basket Drive and again it was quite successful. They also held an induction ceremony to induct new members. A fairly large number of parents and students turned out to witness this unique ceremony. A night that the new members will not forget.

New inductees: SaRae Whatley, Laura Hux, Tia Williamson, Denise Swingler, Leon Mickens & Derrick Kennedy.

A beautiful cake to mark a beautiful occasion.

OFFICE AIDES

The office aides assist all of the staff clerks in our building. They may help answer the telephones, complete paperwork, deliver messages, or locate material needed to complete a task.

Each student must request to become an office aide. She/he must have a free period already placed in her/his schedule. She/he must be recommended by a faculty member in order to be assigned to this duty. This year's aides have certainly been very efficient and responsible in the various offices of our building.

Rose Crawford, Debra Bratcher, Kimberly Johnson, Laura Hux, Tia Williamson.

LIBRARY AIDES

These aides are also students who volunteer their services to the Librarian, Mrs. Davis. They also come to the library during a period that they do not have a scheduled class. During the time they are scheduled, they help students locate material, check out books, and send out delinquent notices to those students late returning books to the library. As always these young people are very appreciated by Mrs. Davis and Ms. Woods.

PROJECT LEAD

The goals for this group are numerous. They are primarily concerned with developing leaders within our school for today and in the future. Mrs. Pipkin, sponsor, is dedicated to the task of providing her students with interesting experiences that will provide direction for the future. Project Lead students have implemented several activities within our school that promote awareness, pride and interest. We hope to see more positive activities from this group.

Aurora Boykin, Tawanda Carter, Monica Conley, Mrs. Pipkin, Wesley Walker, Angela Gordon, and Juanita Bryant.

STUDENT SECURITY

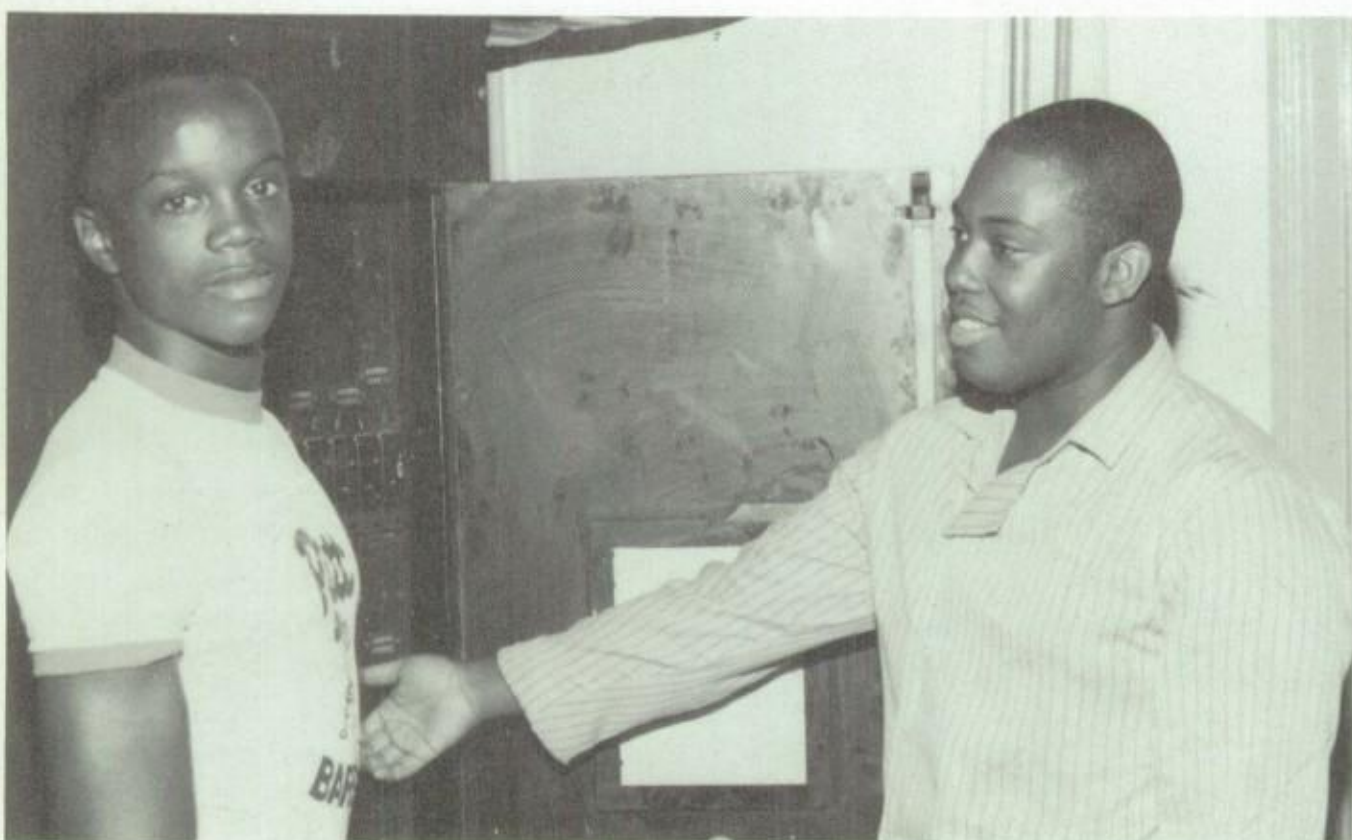

The members of student security have various responsibilities. They must patrol the halls to keep vandalism down, act as positive role models, and assist at open house, athletic events, field trips and picnics. They are indeed a positive force in our school. The requirements for becoming a member of this group are simple. You must have a 2.0 grade point average, not be a behavior problem, and willing to give and follow directions.

Mrs. Pendleton, Ms. Ringgold, Mrs. Kyser and the Student Security Staff.

F.H.A./HERO

The Future Homemakers of America (F.H.A.) is a group of select Home Economics and Food Service students. They are involved leadership training and competence in all areas of Home Economics and Food Service through competition and service. Ricky Ross and Tina Truitt were winners in several competitions held this year. Other members of this select group plan to enter and place in next year's competition.

HOUSE LIGHTS UP!

One of the necessary commands you must follow when working for Mr. Bolden, Stage Manager. There are numerous tasks to complete during an assembly, show, concert, or theatrical production. The stage crew must know where every prop is, how to adjust the stage lights, set up audio and visual equipment and if anything goes wrong be able to repair the problem. Only a few good students are needed to complete the various jobs of stage hand and Mr. Bolden has been ever diligent seeing that the job gets done.

YEARBOOK STAFF

The theme for the 1986 Yearbook was "Carefully Constructed". This year's staff worked hard to live up to this theme. Under the supervision of Mr. Lance Carter, advisor, and Janet Hawkes, Editor-in-Chief, the staff worked up to their fullest potential to publish a unique yearbook.

There were many goals that the staff wanted to reach. Some of these objectives were to add more color to the book, insert folio tabs, add division spreads, and improve copy. The staff was quite successful in their endeavors. The yearbook turned out to be "Carefully Constructed" after all.

Yearbook Staff: Ronda Henderson, Nichelle Carter, Tracey Bradley, Pamela Glenn, Mr. Lance Carter, Leslie Alston, Laura Hux, Larry Anderson, Dorothea Brown.

Pamela Glenn looks for a new beginning.

The Adventurers

Janet Hawkes tries to give her point of view, but Mr. Carter ignores her.

AND THEN THERE WERE THREE

In the beginning, there was a total of almost thirty people on the yearbook staff. As time went on, the number of people began to drop tremendously. The work wasn't getting done. A new staff had to be found. Then there was nine members to the new edition.

Mr. Carter felt that his new staff would be able to do almost anything he asked, but he was wrong. Soon he began to lose his new edition as well. Instead of the yearbook staff going out with a big bang, it went out with only three. Mr. Carter, Janet Hawkes, and Laura Hux worked long and hard to make sure the yearbook was a success.

Student Council Members

WHO'S THE BOSS?

The back bone of our student body is our Student Council. This consists of all the home room presidents in the school. Their job is to provide leadership and direction for the student population. They also work closely with the administration and faculty in solving student problems around school activities.

The Senior class of 86 had a long tough struggle this year. Since their fund raising activities started late, they were unable to lower their class dues. With the assistance of their class sponsors (Mr. Ferguson and Mrs. Lloyd) and the administration all of the senior activities held were successful.

The responsibility is great for the junior class planning committee. They have to make sure that the problems faced by the class of 86 will not hamper their efforts for having a successful year. They have begun fund raising and planning senior events for next year. Mrs. Anderson and Mr. Carter have been on the job seeing that what the class of 87 wants, the class of 87 will get.

Members of the Junior Class Planning Committee.

Mr. Ferguson, Mrs. Lloyd & and the Senior Class Planning Committee.

Mr. Webb and the Sophomore planning committee.

SOPHOMORE & FRESHMEN PLANNING COMMITTEES

The goal for both committees is to plan social activities and fund raising for each class. Mr. Webb is the advisor for the sophomore class and has worked closely with the committee planning appropriate activities for the class of 88. Likewise, the advisor, Mrs. Brown, is working to lower the cost of senior fees for the class of 89. With continued cooperation of everyone involved each committee should be successful in reaching their goals.

Mrs. Brown and the Freshmen planning committee.

WHO'S RIGHT & WHO'S WRONG

Developing a logical plan of attack is where each member of our debate begins when dealing with controversial topic. It is the task of Mr. Bransky, adviser, to teach the debate members the fundamentals of debating. Each member further enhances his/her skills through intramural debates and team debates with other schools.

Mr. Bransky and his Debate Team Club.

Mr. Wagner and his Chess Club Members.

WHO'S MOVE?

One of Mr. Wagner's goals was to see that each member of the Chess Club learned the fundamentals of the game. After identifying each game piece and how they move on the board, strategies were taught, learned and implemented.

In Mr. Sundy Prep 4 club the primary goal was to acquaint students with the career of engineering through competitions and field trips. Also, in Mrs. Glenn's chemistry club the goal was to promote an interest in science, especially chemistry through research projects, tutoring, competition and field trips.

EXTRA, EXTRA

Although the Bulldog Newspaper only published three issues this year, it was a fair attempt to revitalize the publication. The staff had to be taught the concepts and objectives for the Bulldog in addition to the fundamentals of journalism. Mr. Palso and his staff are to be commended for their endeavor of bringing our newspaper back.

ACTIVITIES

RIBBON DAY

Who's Who, Music, Dance, and a lot of fun. That's what this day is all about. The Juniors really out did themselves on this day. Putting on a show is just what they had to do, and what a show it was.

As well as music and dance, Ribbon Day is the day the seniors turn the school over to the juniors. By telling the whole student body who's who and reading the class bequeaths, the juniors get an idea of what their year is going to be like.

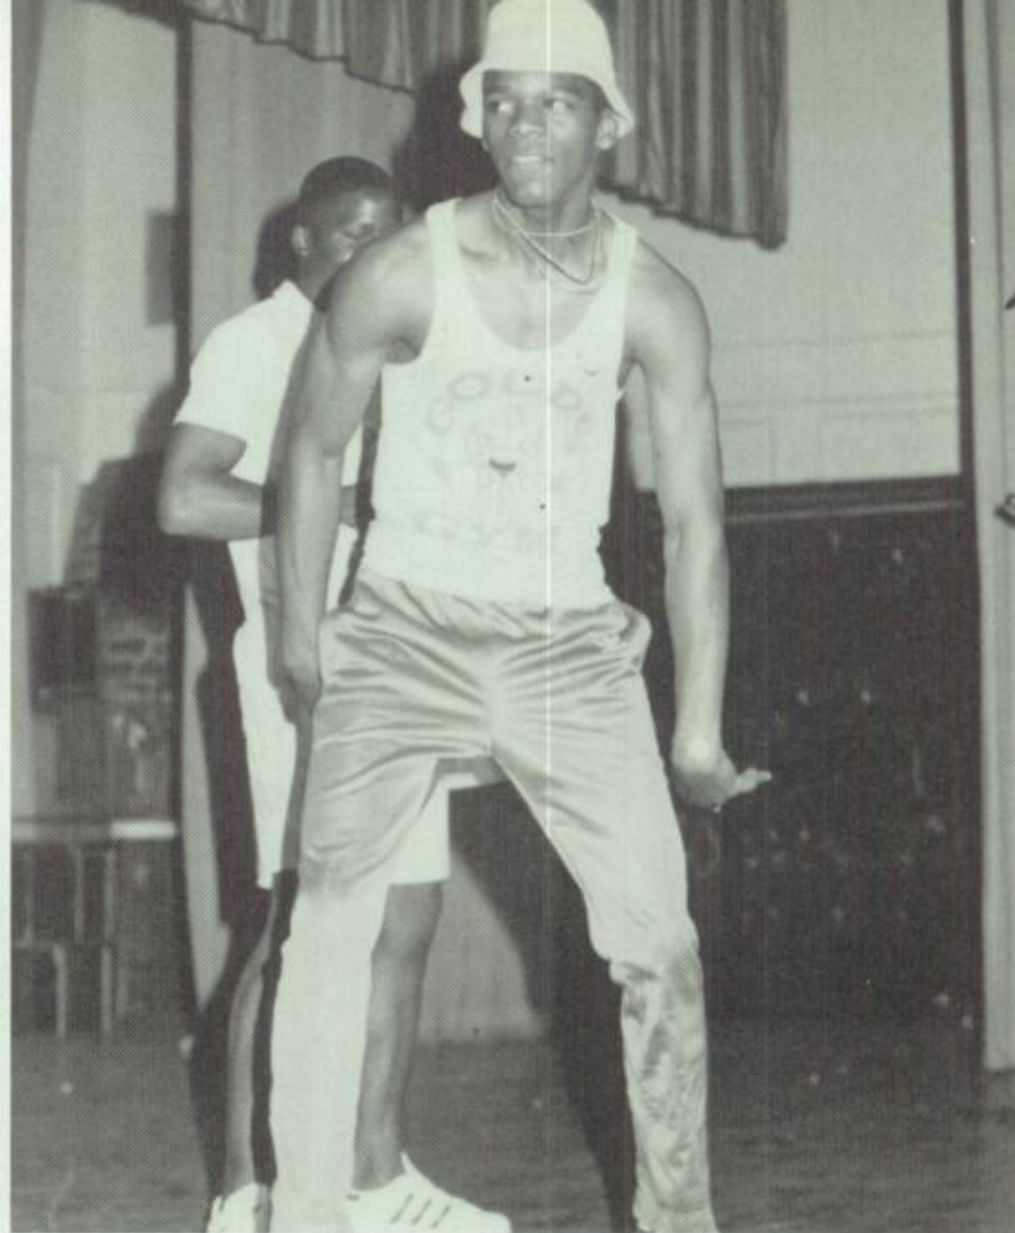

We shall all wait to see how the juniors take on their new responsibilities. Hopefully, theirs will go as well as the Class of '86'.

BEAU SHARP AND TACKY DAY

Looking clean and looking terrible is what this day was. Seniors running around looking like hobos and juniors moving around like their on job interviews. Could it be better or could it be worse. You had to judge for yourself.

This day is one of many traditions at Westinghouse. Each year the seniors dress as tacky as they possibly can, while the juniors dress as well as they can.

This year the tradition continued. Seniors looking terrible and juniors looking good. That's just the way it was.

Don't worry most of them are smiling!

Wow what poise!

HOMECOMING

Pep Rallies, crowning of the King and Queen, and the football game are the biggest events of this day. The Committee worked long and hard to make sure this day turned out the way it did. We are proud to say it was a success.

Voting had taken place days prior, and before you knew it, it was time to crown the homecoming king and queen. This year's king and queen were Victor Nelson and Monica Johnson. The band led the activities with their pep rally in the auditorium.

Everything went as well as it was planned. To top the day off, the football team had yet another victory over Oliver High School.

"Glamorous Life"

This year there were many talented young men and women who participated in the pageant. It took long hard practices to get things organized, but in the end everything went well. This year's reigning queen was LaVonne McBride. She was up against some very competitive young women, but was able to pull it out in the end.

The competition for the underclass queens was very hard to distinguish to whom would win, but the judges were able to make a very good decision on who would win for each class.

Congratulations to all reigning queens. You worked hard to earn the position that you have reached. You all are a part of "the glamorous life."

SPECIAL

Several groups at Westinghouse went on special trips this year. Student Security, our Marching Band and the Business and Finance Academy visited Cedar Point Amusement Park in Sandusky, Ohio. The Business and Finance Academy also went to Seven Springs Resort. Our Concert Choir took a long bus ride to Tampa, Florida and students in the C.A.S. program (Center for Advanced Studies) went to Cancun, Mexico. Student security and sponsor, Mrs. Kyser, went to Cedar Point as a reward for working hard and keeping our halls safe and secure. The Business and Finance Academy and Lead Teacher, Mrs. Anderson, also went to Cedar Point and Seven Springs as a reward for performing well in the academy. Our Band Director, Mr. Stemley and our Marching Band went to Cedar Point to perform for visitors of the park.

EVENTS

The band stayed overnight after the performance and reported that this was an enjoyable experience which they would not soon forget. The Choir Director, Mrs. Broadus, and the Concert Choir went to Tampa, Florida to participate in a music festival. They received a superior rating and first place during the competition. While the bus trip took about fourteen hours, they stated that the trip was worth while and enjoyable. Mr. Burley and his students in C.A.S. program flew to Cancun, Mexico to participate in an archaeological dig. This group returned with many fascinating stories about their trip. They also brought back a brass plack for our school's trophy case. One interesting story, reported by Pamela Glenn, informed us of how Monica Johnson developed skills in dickering and bartering while visiting the many shops in Cancun.

GRADUATION

IT'S BEEN ONE LONG YEAR, BUT THE CLASS OF 86 HAS MADE IT. HARD WORK AND DISCIPLINE TOOK ITS TOLL. JUNE 16, 1986 MARKS THIS DAY AS A DAY THAT WE WILL NEVER FORGET. EDUCATION IS WHAT WE STRIVED TO OBTAIN FOR THE PAST FOUR YEARS. RECEIVING OUR DIPLOMAS TELLS US THAT WE HAVE INDEED ACCOMPLISHED ONE OF MANY GOALS IN LIFE.

ON STAGE THAT NIGHT SPEECHES WERE GIVEN BY THOSE STUDENTS WHO STRIVED TO MAINTAIN A HIGH GRADE POINT AVERAGE. THE SPEECHES THAT NIGHT WERE GIVEN BY: PAMELA GLENN, VALEDICTORIAN, LAVONNE MCBRIDE, SECOND IN CLASS, SARAE WHATLEY, SENIOR CLASS VICE PRESIDENT, MONICA JOHNSON AND LAURA HUX, SHARED FOURTH IN CLASS AND BELINDA BATES, THIRD IN CLASS. THE SPEECHES WOULDN'T HAVE BEEN EFFECTIVE WITHOUT THE HELP OF DR. SPENCER, ADVISER.

THE CLASS OF 86 IS PROUD TO SAY THAT THEY STRUGGLED HARD, BUT LET NOTHING HOLD THEM BACK FROM WALKING ACROSS THE STAGE AT SOLDIERS AND SAILORS MEMORIAL HALL. CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 86.

CLASS ACT

Christened the Charismatic Class of 1986, the seniors at Westinghouse High are certainly one classy congregation. The class officers, Pamela Glenn, SaRae Whatley, Kymberle Gillcrese, and Leon Mickens (president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively), are united in the sole purpose of maintaining order and harmony among their constituents. One of the officers' first orders of business was to compile a roster of the seniors' official colors, flower, song, and theme. They did so by a special election during the first seniors class assembly. When the votes were tallied, the final results were as follows:

Class Colors: Royal Blue and Ivory

Class Flower: Pink Carnation

Class Song: We're Going All the Way

Class Theme: We Are Assured to Endure
Against All Odds

FACE VALUE

If one quickly looks at the members of our graduating class, he will observe quite an ordinary group of individuals. However, when one catches these same people in action, it's an entirely different story. Among our seniors are aspiring homemakers, scientists, technicians, athletes, and craftsmen; name it, and it's represented here. By observing even closer, one will see that we are taking actions now to attain our futures; we're taking college-preparatory classes, refining our business skills, and practicing with the tools of our future trades. Our actions are paying off in personal satisfaction and sometimes community acclaim and recognition. We're much more complex than our candid senior photos make us to be. Behind those smiles on those wallet-sized glossies beat hearts of pride and determination.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE THE HOUSE

The senior class sponsored a dynamic Alumni Day which was filled with pomp and pageantry. Members of the Alumni Day Committee gathered together to make a balloon and streamer showcase of the school's auditorium. During the Alumni Day Pep Rally the audience was dazzled not only by the decorations, but also by the renovated Bulldog Marching Band and it's auxillaries, the cheerleaders, and the awesome Bulldog Football team. For the first time in recent history, the Alumni Day Court was chosen by a school-wide vote instead of the traditional ticket sale. Westinghouse alumni were certainly satisfied this day as Monica Johnson and Victor Nelson were crowned as the event's official queen and king and as the Bulldogs triumphed over the Oliver squad.

SENIORITY

Where as many senior classes have adopted the "Now's the time to celebrate attitude" in their graduating year, we contained our jubilation in order to insure a successful year for everyone. We included underclassmen in many of our activities; they worked with us on several of our committees and were a pertinent component of our overall success. We worked hand-in-hand with the staff to make the system work for everyone; we sat down with the administration and negotiated with them when we faced a difficulty. We made every endeavor to unite the student body with the staff. By virtue of our long and steady service, we have come to epitomize the word "seniority."

JEWEL IN THE CROWN

One of the highlights of our senior year was the production of the annual Ms. Westinghouse Pageant. The audience was captivated by the splendor and beauty displayed during the event as LaVonne McBride was crowned Ms. Westinghouse 1986. However, few people realized exactly how much work went into making the evening so dazzling. First, a pageant committee had to be formed to decorate the auditorium and to provide refreshments for the spectators. Next, a stage crew, audio crew, and pageant escorts had to be organized. Members of the pageant committee also had to act as judges in the preliminary contest auditions. The committee worked with the pageant finalists on enhancing and refining the finalists talent routines. The final job of the pageant committee was to select a theme for the evening. It's rather ironic that the "The Glamorous Life" was chosen as the pageant theme, when the preparation for this lively event took long, demanding and strenuous work. However, it must take hard work and dedication to make all things successful.

ACCURATELY ALIGNED

We maintained a team effort so that every member of the class could feel as if he helped in carefully constructing our graduating year. Ours was a system of careful checks and balances. We initiated a senior planning committee to help organize senior events and to relay messages from the senior class to the senior class officers. The senior class officers, in turn, distributed information for their classmates through the committee. All seniors were encouraged to vote on event locations and on committee ideas. We were also encouraged to air our beliefs concerning the class policies. This painstaking process was well worth the effort for we managed to illustrate to one and all that "slow and steady" does win the race.

SUCCESS NOT ONLY COMES TO DARNELL RANKINS ON THE GRID IRON, IT ALSO COMES TO HIM IN THE CLASSROOM

SHIFTING GEARS

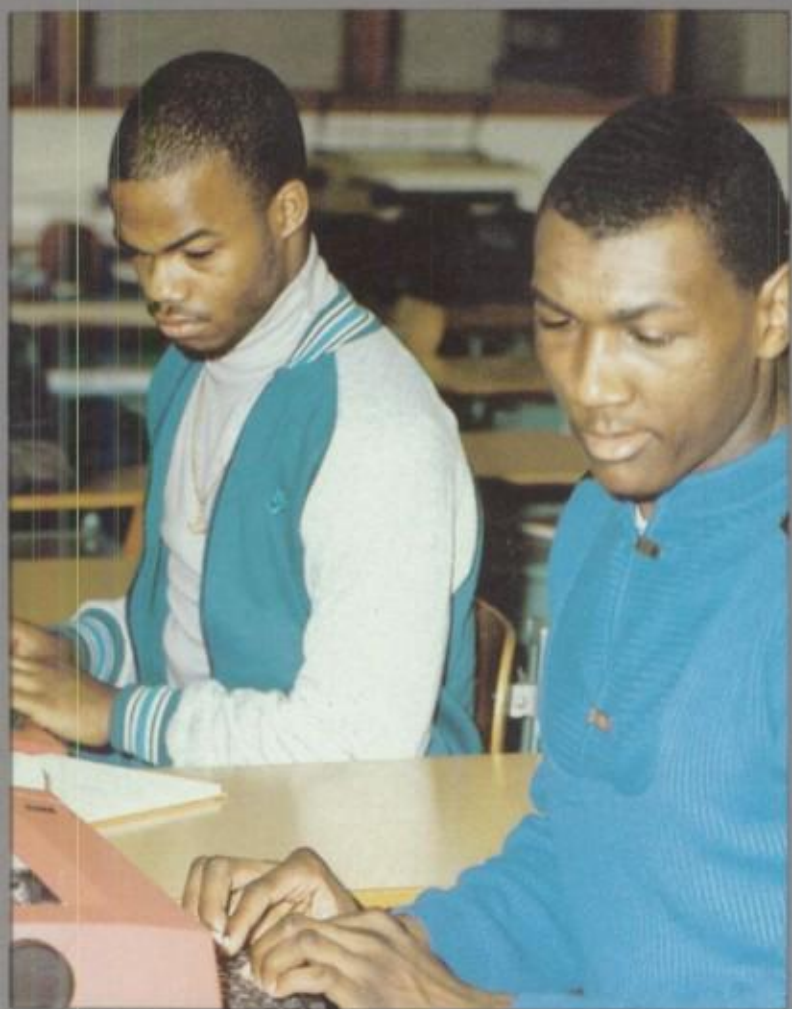

Full force ahead! That's where we are moving. We have left behind our childish attitudes and have adopted a more mature manner. We have learned to accept responsibility for our actions and welfare. We are setting new standards for personal and academic excellence. We are preparing ourselves to take our positions as respectable members of the community. Though our new status as young adults may cause us to take our time to carefully construct our actions, once we start moving there is no stopping us. Be aware that we are a force to be reckoned with, and we are headed your way!

SUPERIOR GRADE

The junior class has been planning many activities to help them have a successful academic year. These juniors maintained high academic grades in business, vocational, and scholar's classes. They have excelled in sports along with after school organizations. Concerned about community, they have incorporated themselves into many civic activities. This class can surely attest to the theme "superior grade"!!!

BUSINESS

Westinghouse can boast of having one of the best business education and training departments in the Pittsburgh Public School District. Instructors, such as Ms. Harper, have placed students at part time and full time positions. Other dedicated instructors Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Capone and Mrs. Weigman inspire students not only to be better but the best. On the job training takes place by being on time, dressing properly and getting straight to work. Mrs Anderson has even introduced her Business & Finance classes to theatre and the finer things in life. Also the junior class can take pride in being the first graduating class of the Business & Finance Academy.

RIGHT ON TRACK

Everyday very difficult tasks are handled by juniors everywhere. They are not ready to claim the rights of seniors to rule the school, or freshman ideas of, "I'm here to change things the way I want!" But our juniors have been right on track about things. They have taken the heat, pressure and come right out on top. One can surely apply the phrase of "never letting them see you sweat."

CAS

The CAS (Center for Advanced Studies) are students set apart from all the rest. They are students of exceptional knowledge and perseverance. Mr. Burley who is solely responsible for the students, takes pride and joy in seeing his students turn out on top. Many students are class officers, musicians, athletes, and everyday people. They're treated somewhat special, but with the workload they carry it is well worth it. This year our students, along with scholars from other schools, were treated to a trip to Cancun, Mexico. CAS proves to be another wonderful asset to the many at Westinghouse High School.

CHILD CARE

Westinghouse not only caters to the needs of the staff and student body, but also to the community. Child care is not only the development of skills for the future, but a day care for working parents. Parents find this a blessing and our students a wonderful experience. Mrs. Smith is responsible for providing the kids with an atmosphere of laughter and kindness. She makes sure they are being taught, provide lunches, parties, and field trips.

The sophomores can boast, among other things, as being one of the largest classes in Westinghouse High School. Academic, athletic, and musical achievement have not been affected by this dominance. Determination, dedication and endurance have guided them through the courses and year successfully.

ABOVE DOUBT

No one can doubt this class as one of the best. Going to class on time, doing homework, and beginning class work immediately has really paid off. These little efforts have not only been noticed by faculty but by students alike. Along with structural building changes, the sophomores have been making changes of a different kind also!!!

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Visual Communications, Carpentry, Drafting & Design, Auto Mechanics and Electronics are some of the classes that make up our industrial arts. These classes are offered to students interested in taking them along with their academic schedule. The instructors provide an on the job atmosphere for the student. The magnificent work is often displayed in the front hall and library and here the student can display their hidden talent.

"CLASS OF 89"

A "Fresh" looking Freshman.

They have successfully completed one year of high school. They have learned what is expected of them and have begun to make an effort to meet the demands of high school life.

They have set many career goals for the next three years to come. Some will excel in academics or vocational areas, others will excel in athletics, while others will pursue a career of business. What ever choice is made by each student, success will truly be theirs through hard work and the willingness to achieve.

While the road may be rough at times, it is indeed a time to explore all the possibilities that education can bring. Let us hope that each member of the class of 89 achieves his/her goals.

CHOOSE CAREFULLY!

There are number of groups and organizations to join at Westinghouse. Sometimes it can be difficult to choose between a club or sport. Because of the new eligibility requirements, each student must maintain a 2.0 grade point average to participate in extra curricular activities. Students are advised about not becoming involved in too many activities. Although group involvement is encouraged, it should not overtake the academic program.

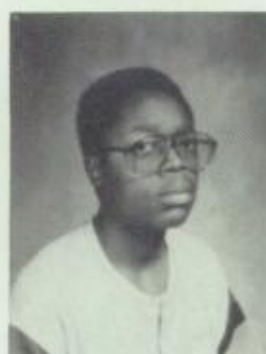

Students may participate in the following activities: Cheerleaders, Chess Club, Chemistry Club, Debate Team, FHA/Hero, Flag Squad, Choir, Band, Class Planning Committees, Majorettes, National Honor Society, Newspaper, Prep 4, Pomerettes, Student Council, Student Security, Yearbook, Basketball, Football, Cross Country, Golf, Swimming, Tennis, Track and Field, Softball, Baseball and Volleyball.

MAKING THE GRADE

How do you pass seven courses, while participating in clubs and sports, spending time with friends, and trying to have a good time? It's not easy being a freshman. The demands are great and you need a plan of attack to manage the various activities you select. Set aside time for complete homework assignments, being with friends, watching T.V., etc. Make sure the time you set aside for each activity is divided based upon the time needed to complete each. Always remember and never forget the primary reason for attending school (to learn, experience, explore and discover).

Steven Staton eagerly completes English lesson.

SUMMER ORIENTATION

Our Board of Education provides incoming 9th graders with an excellent opportunity to meet each other, their teachers and become familiar and comfortable with the school, by sponsoring a summer orientation program. During the two day program, students participate in gymnastics, computer and science classes, media and foreign language activities, auto shop and a tour of the building. This is all designed to make the transition from middle school to high school easier. To date this program has been very successful and will continue to do so.

Time spent on task reaps meaning benefits.

LUNCH TIME...

A time to meet new people and make friends. A time to catch up on homework assignments. A time to play a board game. A time to relax. A time to eat?

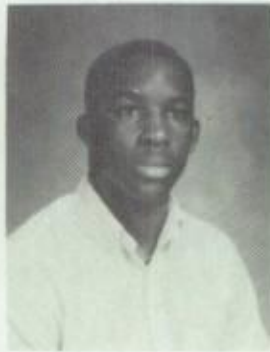

Very little time is spent on contemplating on what you are going to eat. Most students select food from the lunch line or eat junk food from the vending machines. The majority of the time is spent talking with friends about the events of the day, or what their plans will be after school. It is certainly a time to enjoy the only unstructured time of the school day with people you like to be around.

Kendall Prince taking care of business.

ENOUGH SAID...

We've had an excellent school year, learned a great deal and look forward to next year. We wait eagerly in anticipation of what the year will bring. Our hopes are high and our goals are set. Perhaps, someone in the tenth grade will become famous and put Westinghouse on the map. What ever our class does will depend upon all of us working together to achieve common objectives. Let's see what we can do positive for our school, community and our class.

COLOPHON

Carefully constructed, Volume 91 of the George Westinghouse High School Bulldog was printed by Inter-Collegiate Press, Shawnee Mission, Kansas. Our Representative is John Lopushansky. Two hundred copies of carefully constructed were printed. The book was printed on 80 pound enamel paper. The cover is a navy blue shoegrain with a custom embossed hot stamp. The cover was designed by Laura Hux. The end sheets are royal blue with the table of contents and division spreads designed by Laura Hux. Photographs were taken by Strem-Varden Studios. Mr. Donus Crawford Jr., Mr. Lance H. Carter and students: Larry Anderson, Oscar Bush, Dan Crawford, Pat Higgins and Ronald Curry. The body copy and picture captions were set in 10 & 8 point respectively; type sized in malibu italic companion face. All headlines were set in malibu style with the main headlines set in 30 point. The subheadlines were in 18 point, and the division spread headlines set in 48 point. The internal margins were set at one pica apart and the folio tabs were set in 8 point, caps and lower case, with numbers set to the outside edge of each page.
